“ I am sorry I could not be at the services for Armeda today. Although there was quite an age gap between us as cousins, she never failed to give me a hug and ask about my family when I seen her. The last time I seen her was our last family reunion and she was not her old bubbly self anymore. She will be greatly missed but it is comforting to know she is with her parents and God and baby brother, and all her earthly suffering is over. I will be praying for you Kim, Carrie and Barry and all the grandkids too. Even though we know she is with God it does not make us miss our loved one any less. God bless you all.

Love,

Lorna

“ I want all who read this to know that my Mother was a very strong person and was giving in every way. She raised her three children by herself and with the help of her parents for about 17 years and never once asked for anything in return. Growing up we went on vacation every year from Florida to California to Anchorage Alaska. The three of us had more growing up than some kids had with two parents. She worked two jobs at times and never complained. She was very proud of her kids, grandkids and great grandkids. She loved us all. My moms nieces and nephews all loved to be around her because she would play with them, joke with them and love them. It was especially nice when we had our friends over because she would treat them as if they were her kids and most of our friends called her Mom as well. I am sad because I'll miss my Mother very much but I am happy knowing her suffering is over and she is in heaven with a host of other family members who were waiting for her. My Mother was a beautiful person inside and outside and was always ready to serve her family and her church. My Mother raised us in church from the time we were born and always taught us to respect Gods word. There were times my Mom and I didn't see eye to eye but her love for me never waivered nor did it change when I told her I was gay. She loved me anyway. I was and am Proud to call her Mother. Her unselfish love taught me to love. Her unselfish giving taught me to give. Her understanding taught me to understand. I wouldn't be the person I am if it were not for my Mothers loving hand leading me. I owe everything to my Mother for being the best at what she did best and that was being my Mother. I love you Mother. I'll miss you for ever but you will never be forgotten because you will always live inside me and will always be a part of who I am.

I remember your mother ALWAYS had a smile for Richard and I and we ALWAYS felt welcomed and loved when we came over to your house. We still traded Christmas cards and often she would note that we should come over and see her & Linord. I'm sorry to say that we hadn't done so in many years. Leaving people with a feeling of being Loved and having Loved is the best you can hope for. You're in my thoughts and prayers. Martha
