“ Betty and Fred had been my neighbors in Shawnee since 1986. They had seen my kids grow up, and move away. Fred, myself or Vince would talk in his garden for hours. Betty would join us in endless conversation about a little bit of everything. Whenever we would go on family vacations I knew they kept an eye on the house and made me aware of any car that pulled up in the drive. They would always make sure we were safe during any tornado warnings. Betty or Fred would call and say get over here when the sirens went off. They would do anything for us. They were the best neighbors anyone could ask for. Too many good times to mention. We now have the good memories of them both. They will be truly missed.
