“ Carl - I met you 32 years ago, when I started boarding my horse at your barn. At that time I did not realize that you would become so much more than the man that ran the barn. As a first time horse owner, I could not have asked for a better teacher. You gave the best advice, you taught me a lot about owning a horse, and you sold me my first saddle. In the winter, you always had the stove going in the little shed. You generally would also have a pot of your coffee going. I could sit in there and talk to you for hours. I loved listening to your stories and boy did you have a lot of them. We had some good times up on that hill. Over the years you became a great friend and a huge part of my life. That barn was my home away from home and you were like my second Dad. I would have never guessed at that time, that years down the road you would actually become my father in law 💕 I have so many wonderful memories of you that I will cherish for the rest of my life. We will miss you and love you forever 💕💕💕

“ You will be missed. A couple of memories was when you told me that corn fritters had legs and they would walk off my plate if I didn't watch. Funny they only disappeared when you would sit by me! And the story about the hole in your head...wow!
Love and miss you!
