“ I know my sweet , sweet yaya who was and in my heart still is , my grandma. I wish I could just have one more important thing. To say I love you to you just for the last time. I wish you could be reborn. I wish you could come back in another lifetime. I wish you could have a fresh restart to meet your granddaughter once more with being able to walk and without the stress and sickness. While you were in the hospital every night I prayed to the lord and asked this “lord is there anyway we can have the picnic yaya wanted?” But sadly we just couldn’t, no matter how hard the doctors tried. When I am called my God too I’ll be happy to see you again and my great grandma that sadly also passed, that I was never able to meet. What I’m trying to say is I love you and I’ll always miss you till I see you again. Signed your Chichita (granddaughter)

“ I worked with Deb for several years and she was always such a motherly figure to me. She was so kind and generous. I'm so sorry for her family's loss. She was always so proud of her family and spoke about them constantly bragging on her kids and grandkids! My condolences.

“ My Comadre, My Sister, and My Partner in crime. I will miss you to the ends of the earth. I Thank God for your Love and Friendship. We laughed and cried together, but most of all you were there when I needed you most. We shared our children and their love. Thank you for giving me 9 more hearts to love. As the saying goes, I Won't Say Goodbye, I'll Say See You Later!

Forever your Comadre,
