“ Curley was my grandfather. Not by blood but he treated me like I was blood. He was married to my grandmother for a short time but continued to be in my mother's life. There is no other way to describe him but selfless. He didn't have to stay in our lives but he did. I miss him always. Curley would give me a ride home every night from work when I was a teenager. We would have the best conversations. I learned so much from him. I never felt like a burden. He was the best grandpa I could ever ask for. I love you Curley ❤️
