“ With the passing of Aunt Flossie, the family has not only lost a beautiful person, friend and relative, but also the final surviving member of the Breedlove family. In her day, she would travel around in her spare time, connecting with relatives, and keeping records of birth, deaths, and marriages. She was the genealogist of the family and there is none other like her. The family has lost one of the true matriarchs of our time. May she rest in peace, she sure deserves it.
