“ I love you, daddy, my buddy, and mentor. You let me hang out with you and watch you fix, craft, repair, create, and showed me how to be resourceful. I always wanted more time with you, but I understood why you worked so hard for your family. You taught me to give 110% in everything we do, be generous to honest people, and forgive and love unconditionally. Thank you for teaching me by demonstration, for helping me when I became an adult with repairs on houses, cars, and everything else. I never saw you slacking off, you always took time to listen and cry with me through heartache, and you watched patiently as God brought a beautiful healing and restoration to my family. Thanks for marrying mother and keeping your sense of humor even through tough times. I wish more people could have been around you because you loved their attention and friendship. I miss you already so much it hurts. Thanks for letting Jesus be your Lord and Savior. Your daughter, Patty

“ Floyd and the entire family was such a blessing. I so enjoyed our short journey that we were allowed to walk together....I will always remember the family musicals and when Floyd would just suddenly burst into song.....• Let Us Be Grateful To People Who Make Us Happy, They Are The Charming Gardeners Who Make Our Souls Blossom. Floyd now rest in the arms of Our Lord and Savior...!!!
