“ My dad had such a huge heart he would give to someone in need even though he didn't have much to give. I have so many great memories spent with my dad I remember wanting to spend as much time with him as I could as a young girl. Laying in the floor watching wrestling with him all the time, he would call my house every night that wrestling was on just to ask if we were watching it or to see if we saw a specific move or even to talk about the divas to try and get Steve in trouble. I love you so much dad and will miss you always

“ Gary was a very loving and thoughtful person. When we were kids he loved singing to the latest songs on the radio. My favorite that made me laugh was "little red riding hood" because there was a part of the song where the singer howled like a wolf. Gary would throw his head back and just howl too. It was too funny. He always called by my nickname "Gabby".
