“ I met Jake through Rhiannon back in the early 2000s. He was always so kind and welcoming to me when hanging out. We had a few things in common like horsepower and building things with our grandpas. I would ride my motorcycle over to their house at the time to hang out and Jake would have his eye on my bike and it wasn't long before he called me one day and said he bought a bike of his own but needed some help learning how to ride. Bikes are fun but when you have others to ride with, it changes the feeling all together. So a few afternoons we would pudder around the neighborhood so he'd build his confidence riding and wasn't too long before we were out ripping around town like a couple of hornets. We always had so much fun! He will be missed and I like to think he's ripping around heaven right now on his red Honda bike having just as much fun as we did before. RIP bro!

“ I've been out of touch with Jake for many years now but for a long time I consider Jake one of my best friends. Jake's friendship was one friendship I always valued. There aren't words to describe how great Jake was but needless to say Jake had a great soul, better than most of us. He had so much love for his friends and always had your back . He a heart made of pure gold. I always love having conversations with Jake because not only was he a great listener but because of how much of an intellectual he was he always had something to contribute. Jake I love you my friend I hope I see you again

“ Jake truly had the personality type to go out of his way to help others. He was one of the least selfish people that I had the pleasure to call my friend. Although it's extremely hard to accept the fact that he is no longer with us, but I'll never forget how selfless and just such an all around beautiful person he was. Jake you will be truly missed man. I hope you have found peace. Love you brother,
Kevin M

Thank for being there when I needed you most, RIP brother
