You don't know me. I was looking on facebook for a Tiffany Masoner. I opened it up and it was about a Jessica Masoner. I was talking on the phone with a friend of mine who had been married to a Masoner. Her grandson married a girl also named Tiffany. She has a daughter named Jessica. I was telling her about your daughter who had past away. There are a lot of Masoner's in Kansas that is part of her family. I want to say the Tribute to Jessica was really beautiful. It is very hard to lose a child and I just lost my little great grand daughter in a fire in Kansas City. Bless your family and my prayers are with you.

“ My daughter chose to be a voice for Jessica's illness. She projected a project to speak about Lafora disease and won a satin the state finals with her cause and has made it a goal to continue to advocate for Lafora disease. Jessica was a fighter and on her behalf we will always make a contribution in Jessica's honor for Ladora research until a cure is found! Bless you Jessica and your family as the days become weeks and weeks become months and months become years. Strength will carry them through these times.
