

Jessica G. Taylor

December 9, 1977 - December 3, 2025

Jessica G. Taylor, 47, passed away early Wednesday afternoon, December 3, 2025. She was born on December 9, 1977 in Kansas City, Kansas to George Taylor and Tina (Anaya) Kepler.

Jessica is survived by her son Aidin Taylor; mother Tina Kepler and stepfather Kevin Boyle; siblings Jerry Taylor, George Taylor, Mark Palmerin (Tina), and Becki Flournoy (Robert); and many loving friends and extended family members.

Jessica was an extraordinary person, overflowing with love and an infectious zest for life. Her heart belonged to her beloved son, her cherished mom, her siblings, and her devoted stepfather. She possessed such a beautiful soul, radiating warmth and kindness to everyone around her. Of course, like any vibrant spirit, she had her moments – and if you happened to catch her on a bad day, well, you knew to look out! But even those spirited moments were part of her unique charm. We will all miss her dearly, for she filled our days with immeasurable joy and created countless cherished memories that will forever reside in our hearts. We find comfort in knowing she is now with God, undoubtedly orchestrating things with her characteristic enthusiasm. We love and miss you more than words can express, our dear Jessica.

Love, your family.

“ It's hard to believe you're gone, taken from us far too soon. God truly was showing off when He created you, a masterpiece of beauty and spirit. Perhaps He thought this world was too crowded for your brilliance, and decided to bring you home to spruce up heaven. You were loved beyond measure by your family and friends, and your absence leaves an ache in our hearts that time will never fully heal.

I remember your last request so vividly: "Can you cover up my feet, with the fan on high?" I chuckled, saying, "You're just like me, love it cold but keep the fan blowing." You laughed and said, "Uh huh." I brought you some milk and opened that bag of Christmas cookies you wanted. "Goodnight, I love you," I said, and you replied, "I love you too, night." Then, around 1:30-2:00 AM, you wanted a hamburger. I got up and cooked it for you. The next morning, I asked if you enjoyed it, and your response, with that infectious grin, was "HELL!! YEAH!! they were fire!"

I love you and miss the hell out of you, Jessica. Rest in peace. God bless your Dad

“ To my messica, it's still so hard to believe the Lord took you from us so soon. It's certain that the Lord was truly showing off when He created you [1]. Perhaps He thought the world was simply too crowded with your beauty, so He called you home to spruce up heaven. You were a beautiful girl with a smile that could melt granite, and we're missing you already. There's a void in our lives that no one could ever fill. You were one of a kind, and an impressive cook yourself. I'm so glad I got to cook for you recently, even at 1:30 - 2:00 AM, when you wanted hamburgers. I got up and made them, and the next day when I asked if you liked them, your response was, "HELL YEAH!! they were fire, lol." We had such great times, and you knew I'd walk through hell on Sunday to protect you. You'll always be my girl, and I'm so proud of you. You will forever be in my heart and thoughts. I'm glad we got to say "I love you" to each other the night before. God bless, love you always, Stepdad Kevin.

“ The world feels a little dimmer without your bright light. You were truly the sweetest girl, a force of nature with a stern mom's wisdom, and an amazing cook whose dishes brought joy to everyone lucky enough to taste them. Your presence was undeniable; you were an angel on Earth, and everyone felt it when you were near. I cherished every moment as your stepfather, and you knew I'd walk through hell on Sunday to protect you. I'm so glad you loved my cooking too. That last request for hamburgers, and your enthusiastic "HELL YEAH!! they were fire lol" will forever be etched in my memory. I cherish the time we had and am so grateful we got to say "I love you" the night before. You are special and will always be in my heart and my thoughts forever. Missing you big time, my Messie. None of this makes sense, but we deal with whatever hand we're dealt. Remember, you are loved and will never be forgotten. Love you, your stepdad Kevin
