So many years have passed by since I last saw you, but I know this life is but a visit, and one day we will have an eternity to catch up on all the memories and visit with those who've gone before you. Say hello to all our folks there with you, and Jesus. Until we meet again Uncle Kenny watch over those of us left here.<3

*I pray for God's comforting care for Jewel, Scott, Terry, the children, and all those who knew and loved Uncle Kenny.
Much love to you and each of the family members.
May you all be blessed,
Charlotte Kay Rose*

“ Dear Family and Friends of Kenny Watson. I remember Kenny for being best friends with my parents, Mac and Sheila McAllister. When I was a young girl growing up, I remember going to Kenny & Jewell's house and listening in as they told stories around the table in the kitchen while they all drank beer...I will fondly remember Kenny for being funny. I can still hear the giggles from he and my mom as he would tell some wild story and get them both acting like kids with his antics. I can still hear Jewells voice as she would simply say "Kenny" when he would get out of hand. So laughter and smiles is one way in which I remember Kenny. Someone that you had fun just being around. What a great gift to share with others, the gift of laughter and friendship. Just look at his picture posted in his obituary. It is fitting that it is a picture of him laughing, that's the type of image that is forever in my memories of how I always saw him. Then some of the other fun I can remember having is when I got to join in and go boating with them and we even went camping! Kenny promised me that we would tour the US in an RV when I got older... that never happened, as time tends to pass, people get busy, lives change and pretty soon you look back and wonder why you allowed yourself to miss opportunities or never take advantage of them while you could. For the family and friends who have lost Kenny, I send to you my heartfelt sympathy. Some of you obviously saw other sides of Kenny, but I can truly say I only saw the best in this wonderful man and will always remember him for his humor and fun personality. If he were still here, I would simply say "Thank You" for touching a part of my life that will stay in my memory forever, you will surely not be forgotten by everyone that had the pleasure of knowing you... My respect and sympathy to Kenny and his family and friends. Shelly Moore (McAllister).
