“ Larry was always there when you needed him. You could trust him with anything, As I always did. We kept in touch over the years even when hundreds of miles apart. He taught me how to paint & helped build some really great motorcycles. We called ourselves J&R racing. When I moved I trusted him to keep my 67 Firebird convertible. Two years later when a 47 chevy came up he made the trade for me, we lived 900 miles apart. This would be the car that brought my wife & I together. One time he buried a friends truck off-roading & ruined the engine. Larry built him a new engine & added alot of improvements
That's the kind of man he was. He will be missed.
