“ My recollections of Linda are mostly from those many years ago when we were children. It was fun being the uncle when we were so close in age. I often regret over the years that our lives did not overlap more so that we might have maintained a closer connection. It is from those earlier times where most of my memories of Linda still reside.

Linda always had a special gentleness about her that one never forgets. That is the Linda I shall remember the most – in the innocence of childhood which embraces adversity with a tender smile and with loving eyes that see only beauty and light in the darkest shadows. It is that Linda with the kind heart of an ageless child which I shall always remember. The last time I saw her was at her mother's funeral and I still saw that light alive in her eyes. May it be her gentle guide to the life eternal.

Our most sincere condolences to her husband and children, sister and brothers, as well as to her extended family. With all of our love from Uncle Buddy and Uncle Bill.
