“ When I was young, I knew you as grandpa. But once when I was about ten, I remember being under the hood watching you work on the big green car. all those years, and I finally realized you were missing a finger! I think that was the first time I ever asked grandma questions about you. I was so intrigued by all the great stories. In such awe of your stature. So tall, and strong. Hands so big, that hardly anyone realized you were missing a finger. I am so lucky, that I got to spend all those Saturdays with you. I got to hear for myself straight from you, the story that meant the most to you. And that was your love for grandma. But for such a proud man, to humble himself and ask for forgiveness...In my eyes grandpa, that makes you a great man. I'm so glad you and grandma made peace with it all. I will always remember and love you

“ When we lived in Armourdale before the flood of 51 my uncle came to our house a lot to visit my dad and mom because they lived down the street and sometimes he would eat lunch with my mom he was fun to be around . He loved to be around my mom and dad . He helped my dad dig a big out house next to the alley..He would sing songs with my mom when the radio played. He loved my mom and dad , my brothers and sisters loved him. Later after the flood when we needed a place to stay ,we stayed with his family and later when we were at home for kids in Topeka,he would come to visit . For these and other memories I will always love my uncle. .Martin Castro

Martin, I too have many fond memories of My uncle and aunt coming to Topeka with sandwiches and M&M's. My uncle had just a hard life growing up and I wish his life could have been more enjoyable for him as an adult. I now hope he is with my Mom and Dad, who loved him so much. Peace will now find him.

Love to all my cousins, my Aunt Cuca, My uncle Frank and Aunt May and My uncle Lorenzo.
