“ I remember seeing Louis at our softball games watching so intently. I loved watching him give rides to Alexis on the back of his wheelchair. He had such a positive, joyful spirit.

“ I had the privilege of getting to know what a special young man Louis was because I was his bus driver for a year and half. Louis was never afraid to start a conversation and share his opinion. He had so many questions and was curious about everything. He never ceased to make me laugh and he became someone I feel blessed to have known. Despite his illness, he had a love for life, God, his family. He looked forward to his future. He honestly believed he would someday walk again, and I know he is now walking with angels. He loved video games and wanted to grow up and be a video game creator. He also enjoyed choir and I had the privilege of taking him to Crown Center to sing for the holidays. Louis was on the front row and sang his heart out. He truly brought the holiday spirit to that performance. His mom was his greatest Hero and my prayers go out to her and the whole family. There was many mornings I would see her carry Louis to his wheelchair. I admired her strength not only physically, but mentally and emotionally. You could see Louis was her heart and she was his. I hope they know that Louis touched so many people with his sweet spirit and easy smile. I knew Louis as a boy who just happened to be in a wheelchair. He had the same hopes and dreams as most kids his age, yet, his spirit, heart and mind seemed so much wiser and compassionate. He has touched my life and I am better for it. I cried so hard the day I changed bus routes and would no longer be taking Louis to school. He was the reason why. I will never forget you Louis. May God bless your family. I know you are not only walking with angels but probably running with them as well.

“ I will never forget the day my three year old little boy wanted to play games with his cousin. So they plotted a plan. My son had grabbed a blanket and him and louis jr worked on getting on the blanket. Next thing you knew my son was dragging the blanket with louis jr on it and took him to his room so they could play games. That was the cutest thing i ever seen cousin do. He will never be forgotten in our house. I love u louis jr never did stop loving you and never will.

“ I will never forget the day when i was walking upstairs and louis jr was on top of a blanket as my son was dragging louis in to his room so they could play video games together. That was the best cousin love i ever saw... Louis was such a great boy and had the most beautiful big brown eyes. I love you Louis jr and forever u will be our hearts. God just gained the best angel ever.....

“ I could probably write a novel with all the fun memories I have with Louis. In fact, as a class we started making a list of famous quotes from him. Two things stick out in my mind. The first was from math class. One day he kept saying, "I want to work with Mrs. Whitecotton" and didn't want to work with anyone else. When a para gave him a hard time and asked why he said, "She's cool because she's our age." I didn't expect that answer :) Another day he came into English class and said, "This is boring." Being the goofy teacher that I am I started singing "Found a peanut, found a peanut..." to him. He laughed and said, "Mrs. Whitecotton, you're really freaking me out." I told him I was just trying to spice up class so he wouldn't be bored. Our classroom was not short of humor, laughs and good times. We all miss him so much~
