“ Marilyn taught me a valuable lesson on judgment. She was talking to a group of us high school girls as part of a panel with Mrs. Fell as I recall. She said, "I used to watch parents and their children and think, my child would never.....(whatever misbehavior was occurring). She said, I've come to learn that no matter what you have taught your kids, you just don't know what they might do." When I was teaching, I of course wanted to set the tone for good behavior. Naturally, I had to deal with the unexpected. I was also supportive of other teachers when kids would do the darndest things.

*Above all, Marilyn was a classy lady. May God rest her soul.
With love and sympathy to the whole family.
