“ Dear Phil, Junior, and Elizabeth,
I just want to say that Aunt Ann was a Super Aunt and soooo sweet. I remember how she loved to laugh at the crazy things we did as kids. I recall and cherish her smile and laugh.
I love you all very much and I'm keeping you in all of my prayers,
Barry

“ You have always been my footsteps in the sand. You were always there for me in good times and bad. You lit up my life and there could be no one to hold a candle to you. In my heart you and dad wil lay. In my smile you will always stay. Have I told you lately how much I love you? Don't you forget it. Keep shining up in heaven. I know God will welcome you gladly. Please tell daddy I'll always be his girl and I love him.

“ Mary Ann and Clarence had a strong sustaining love one for another. So I guess we should have been prepared for Mary Ann's passing. But, I was not. When we visited her this pass week, she enjoyed the visit so much. She lived in pain for so many years, a soft pat on her arm hurt her. No more pain! No more grieving for her husband. I will always remember our singing hymns together; she loved it so! Clarence Junior, I know your heart is breaking; but, know that you were a great son. And be comforted by knowing Mary Ann was ready to join her Clarence in eternal blest. Love, Dorothy McClung

Thank you Mom for bringing me life. I was difficult for you from the beginning when you carried me in your womb and was bedridden for so long and you had the doctors do whatever was necessary to bring me into this world without consideration for yourself. I know I demanded your attention from even before I remember, but it was you and your spirit that I was drawn to. I sensed your goodness and kind heart. I remember you before I could speak. I connected with your eyes. I felt that bond they talk about that suppose to happen when a newborn is placed in the arms of its mother. I still feel your presence, mom. Those memories to this day have no words--but maybe one word comes close--Love. Pure, unconditional. I'm so happy I am your son. I am also happy for my brother, my sister and everyone else that you have met. You have changed all of us in some way. You are my sunshine. Tell Dad we're doing fine. Phil

“ So very soon after our sharing in your sorrow in the passing of Clarence, we "sit where you sit" as we now share in your sorrow for passing of Mary Ann. It seems that she did not desire to remain behind when the love of her life had gone on to better realms. Did she imagine him standing on brighter shores with his hand outstretched in welcoming her to come?
She and I used to joke with each other around the anniversary of our birthdays, she being one day younger than I.
