“ Mike and I worked together at Wyandotte High. He was a kind and dedicated teacher. For years, Friday afternoons were spent lifting a few and eating nachos at The Gossip. Those were wonderful times of fellowship. Mike gave the best hugs, big sturdy bear hugs. I will miss him.

“ Mike was a strong advocate for his special education students. He emphasized their abilities and strengths and truly believed that each student deserved an opportunity to reach his or her potential and live the richest life possible. This commitment was evident when he began his professional career teaching driver's education to special needs teenagers and deepen through the years as he taught basic math, especially measurement, to his Wyandotte students. Rest in peace, Mr. Martin. Your Bulldog family is grateful for your years of service. Once a Bulldog, always a Bulldog!

Mike and I spent a great deal of time discussing public education around the campfire at our annual visit to the Walnut Valley Bluegrass Festival. Mike had great passion for the students in his care and Wyandotte High School. Rest In Peace, old friend.
