“ Daddy loves and misses you to no limit I have had many bad days after your passing and done things daddy ain't proud of because I was running to feel numb from the pain and grief I felt over you and your brothers being away I didn't know how to deal with anything like this and I was lost and died in a world that did make any sense no more and I have had to deal and learn how to handle the pain and grief I feel for you and your brothers it was and still is hard to not dwell in the past with your guys memories but I have learned that I can take you guys with me every day we don't have to stay in the past you can live life with me and through me and I can say things in prayer to you and your brothers which I do daily I have grown a lot and know that you and your brother Daman are watching and helping me and your mommy with becoming right again I love and miss you baby girl and think about you every day
