“ Resi, you and your family have always been some of my very favorite people to call family. Since I was little, 'Aunt Resi' was in my life, but as I began to get into my teens, I started seeing her more and got to spend more time being around her and having conversations with her, my mother, and 'Aunt' Sheila as they all smoked their cigarettes on patios at family get-togethers. Both of those women, Sheila and Resi had the most amazing and unique voices. I loved being in Resi's presence. She always made me feel welcome, comfortable and loved. She had this gift or sense and would call me out of the blue or send me a message asking me to call her back or get ahold of her. It was always when I needed it absolutely the most and was wishing to have a mother or someone who I could talk to. She would just listen and let me go on and on. She never complained, never judged, soothed my anxiety, and just cared about me and my kids. She will always have a super special spot in my heart and I am glad I could call her my aunt. I know why my mother loved her so much. I will miss your voice and your caring phone calls. I am glad I got to tell you that I loved you just very recently.

“ Aunt Resi called me in these last 2 weeks and told me “Better get inside it’s cold outside” and on a Saturday night she asked “Are you ready for school tomorrow” Love you, RIP

“ I met Resi while working at Quick's BBQ, all the Custer's were my regulars. I knew Resi's voice when she called in orders. Little did I know then that I would later become part of the Custer family. Bill & I got together & I gained a bonus-big sis. Resi & I became fast friends, hanging out often with our kids, doing family stuff, just being friends. She is the best Aunt to all 3 of my kids. We enjoyed lots of the same things, so hanging together was always fun. We were a little crazy, always finding the humor in things. We held each others hands thru so many things; losses of so many loved ones, the birth of my son, the loss of her parents, loss of my momma, milestones, happy joys, heartache, new jobs, being fired(yes, both of us), birth of our grandkids, planning of parties, b-day parties, kids' graduations, baby showers, planning of funerals. We were each others rock. Her journey with cancer was ugly, so hard on her body, spirit & emotions, a journey I gladly wanted to hold her hand thru. I'm going to miss Resi Marie deeply. I'm saddened for all she will miss out on with us, we will miss her daily. Resi, watch over us all, especially your kids; Justin, Miyah, Scooter & Kamillya. Aunt Resi, also watch over your nieces Josephine & Jessica, nephew William & great-nephews Jaden, Beau & Royce, they all love & miss you dearly.

I love you Resi!

Love your sis,

Jill, that was amazing and just so well said in summary. I also made a post about Aunt Resi and her voice. I loved her voice. Her laugh was awesome and her humor was so familiar and always present. I thought she was the coolest Aunt and used to stock her at family get-togethers just to be around her. My mom always shoed me away from them so they could talk adult talk! haha
