“ Just thinking of you Ricky. It has been almost 10 years doesn't seem right. Bob and I miss you as well as your mom and dad. I bet all your girls have become beautiful ladies. I miss seeing them and would love to see them all. Bob and I still live in Turner but bought a house the street to the north of the middle school. You would like Bob's garage. I found this house and had to buy it. Wish you was here to see it. Bob loves it He tinkers around a lot in it. Well miss you all and love you all. Tell mom and dad hello and miss them.

“ Rick
It has been almost 2 months it still seems like yesterday. It is so hard to look out the door and have to know you are no longer across the street. Bob and I miss the hell out of you. I hope you are happy being with your Mom & Dad at last. RIP my friend.....Love Bob & Brenda

“ its been almost two months, and there is not a time i go in to work at Sonic and dont think about Rick. I think he impacted us more than he could ever know. When he is there literally EVERY shift you work, you get a certain attachment. There is something about seeing someone at their best AND worst that can affect you in many ways. I think about the time he made our whole shift a living hell, asking Mario "whats the nastiest dirtiest thing I can have these carhops do?" and now i think back and all i can do is laugh about it. He brought a group of people that otherwise would never have been very close, extremely close together. Even though we are all going our separate ways now, i don't think there is a single one of us that can say we will ever forget this time in our lives. Rick was more than just our manager. He was a friend, part of our sonic family that we could always count on. This tragic event happened, and there was nothing any of us could do about it. But i guess God works in mysterious ways, and everything happens for a reason. We may not see it now, in a year, in 50 years, but there's a reason for all of this. Rick, be at peace in heaven. Cause you know when your whole sonic family is reunited up there... we will be causing some trouble in typical Switzer fashion. Miss ya Rick...

“ I am so sorry to learn about your loss. Please know that you are not alone. God will be with you to comfort and strengthen you. Keep his promises close to your heart. His Word assures us that our loved ones will truly be remembered and soon they will be brought back to life here, on earth, in an earthly paradise. (John 5:28,29) Please accept my deepest sympathies and my prayer for peace for you and your entire family.
