“ Grandma Sandy,

I love you and miss you so much! We're all at peace because we know right now you're smiling down on us with Jesus right by your side. I know someday I'll be standing right there with you guys but until then I'll always cherish the memories we have. You're beautiful, loving and caring. Always made everyone around you smile with your little jokes. Tonight I was putting together a picture board with my dad and mom and we were just smiling reminiscing on the beautiful life you lived. Thank you for everything!

I love you so much!

I'll always be your Megs the Legs!

I got to know Sandy only after she moved in with Sherri--which wasn't long enough. Sandy had a gentle, loving spirit and I was honored that she called me her new friend. She always had grace and class, and fought her last battle with dignity. I know that she is happy and full of joy in Jesus' arms, but I will miss her and her sweet ways. My heart goes out to Sherri and the family. May you find comfort knowing that Sandy is in God's house now.

“ *Mom,
You were there from the start. You where there when I learned to crawl. You were there for my first fall. You picked me up and told me it would be alright, You tucked me in at night. You were there my first day of school. Wow, that was way cool. As I started to grow into a young man. You were always there still wiling to hold my hand. You were there for your first grand child. I remember how it made you smile. You were so proud ready to shout out loud. I will miss our gentle head butt and you pulling my ear. I would give anything to have you here. You loved life like no other. I am so proud to have called you my mother. I will miss our walks in the park. All the way till dark. I will miss that beautiful smile. Man did you ever have style. I will miss the way I made you laugh. It was always real never half. Thanks for the time we spent together. I will cherish it forever. Although you had to go. It's not permanent this I know. God knew what he was doing when put us together. It sure couldn't have been any better. Thanks for always being there mom. I have always loved you with all my heart even when we were apart. Someday we will be together again. That's the promise in the end. I love you now and forever !!! Your loving son Perrzy !!!*

“ The sun will shine again.....it's so hard to believe you are no longer with us Sandy! We are all going to miss you! God decided you had suffered enough and it was time to go home and be with Jesus. I know you are celebrating in heaven today, as today is your birthday, Happy Birthday Sandy! We love you, Rhonda Jean, Corman, Hopper, Kenny Joe, and Drewsy

“ Sandy and I worked together at Rosedale for about 12 years. We shared stories about our families and our life. We laughed and cried many times together as things happened in our lives. We always talked about our dogs, both of us being Dachshund lovers....and I heard many Lulu stories. We also both loved our kids and grandkids and did we ever have stories about them to exchange! At the beginning of each year, we would tell each other our recent stories about our grandkids. She had pictures in her office of all of them. Each year, we would be amazed at how they had grown and how old we had become.

We always visited about my summer travels and she would tell me how she lived and traveled through my new vacation stories. We went through many administrators, and as each one came and made new rules, we laughed and carried on through to the next one. Each day, I would go to her office to see pictures on the internet of the Panda babies. She so loved animals. Sandy was a very loving person and always wanted everything to be OK for all. She so loved her twin sister and always told me what they did on their birthday "off" day. She so looked forward to that.

Most of all, I just remember how we would see each other every day and laugh about something that had happened at work or at home. I know that the second to last visit with her, she told me that she wasn't well and it was getting close to the end. The last time I saw her; she was in the Hospice House and wasn't responding. I kissed her before I left and told her I loved her. Sherri had told me some time ago that she didn't know what she would do when this was over. She said everywhere she would look in her house, she would see Sandy.

After the pain lessens, you will have the greatest memories and you will know you did the very best for Sandy. I wish her family peace and love during this time. I know how hard it is to lose someone so dear. So please remember that she loved you and will always be near to you. Love & Prayers to all of you.....Sherry (Nurse K)
