“ My favorite memory of Sherry is one evening, she and Judi stopped by about some Apollo HOA business and I was making peanut brittle. If you've ever made peanut brittle you know you can't stop in the middle of making it. When it's ready to pour and spread you've got to do it right then. I poured it out onto the foil and started spreading it out to the optimum thin-ness all the while talking to them both. Sherry came closer to the counter where I was working and started picking up and eating the "singles" nuts that somehow don't stay in the larger mass. She just smiled and gave that gentle chuckle of hers and said she was helping me. I think she managed to eat all the singles around the foil that evening and pronounced that they were good. Everyone needs a taste tester!

Sherry was known for her love of cats around our HOA and was the "official cat sitter" for us. She was so good humored while doing their evening walks and would stop and visit for a few minutes with neighbors in our complex.

I will miss her and her gentle humor.
