I remember when I was just a little girl bouncing from place to place feeling like I didnt belong anywhere (and when I did get a place that felt like home I would be moved somewhere eles...)I was around 10years old and had just lost my mom and my dad was the only person I had but was never really there....He was always gone working and I was usually with somebody or at home with one of my sisters....we constantly had to keep moving around cause they were trying to take us away.....Then I remember the day when I met you and my whole life changed.....You took me in and gave me a home and taught me right from wrong.....For the first time in my life..... I actually felt like I belonged.....We didnt have alot of money....but we always had the things we needed....Times were sometimes tough but we always made it through....We had alot of good times...bad times very few.....I hope you knew just how much you meant to me....you were a big impact in my life and without you I really honestly dont know where I might be and I just want to say Thank you!!!! I will miss you so very much and the little things that I would do for you....Intal the day comes when we meet again.....In my heart and thoughts 💜 Always and Forever💜

“ Some good memories of you: When you used to make homemade biscuits and gravy for breakfast for all of us. Nothing compared. Your fried pork chops were the best. The way you always made Christmas feel special. Listening to the old familiar stories that only you could tell a million times and it was as if I was hearing it for the first time. The way we argued about politics. When you and Billy watched Ashley when she was a baby and you both let her roll off the bed. And no one could yell.....LEON, quite like you could.

“ Shirley opened her home to myself and my younger sisters. She was so good to my family. Even after my divorce from her son she never stopped loving and caring about me. She was very much a mother to me. I can't believe how empty the world will be without her in it. She loved her grandchildren so much. She worried intensely about each one of them.

“ Shirley was like a mother to me. She was a great person with a heart of gold. She was kind, caring, and compassionate. She was the best grandmother to my children. I loved her with all of my heart. I have many fond memories that I will treasure for the rest of my life. May you rest in peace until we meet again.
