“ He was one of the funniest men I knew. My father's best friend, and later one of his pallbearers. At my father's funeral he had no kneelers at his coffin because he was not catholic. But Tom was so sad, he did what he was raised to do. He knelt and gave the sign of the cross. It touched me so deeply to think he did that for my dad, no matter how much ribbing he would take later. I hope he and my dad are up there right now, telling jokes and having a drink.

*We were friends from Coachlite Bar, We were always happy to see Tom, he was a happy and friendly person AND a great smile, he came in and told us about his sister passing, and talked with me about it. I will truly miss his visits. We were on a cruise when he passed and we would have been to his service if we were here, my heart goes out to his family he loved you all very much.
