“ mom I know in my heart you have been welcomed into heaven, you have been reunited with your family and loved ones, and for that i am thankful. From this I find my peace and comfort. I miss you being here for our conversations, visits, holidays and a shoulder to lean on. But we will all remain strong in raising our families and living out our time on this earth hoping to leave our memories with them as you have. I pray that through this process it will have a profound impact on someones life. You will be dearly missed but you will never be forgotten. Randy
