“ Walter guided my life and supported me without fail. As a boy, he coached baseball for my team and allowed the freedom to express my ability at all times. Jerry, his son played also, Joe, played football with many of his remaining friends on our high school team. I appreciated their friendship. When I needed someone to boost my career as a young man, his input, influence, and mentoring enabled the railroad career that served my family to this day. His easy laughter and common sense made respecting Walter all those years a value I gladly remember. Gary Elliott
